Figure 12

A diagram of a multi-layered rectangular structure, possibly a battery or a stack of components. The structure is composed of 12 horizontal layers, each with a label on the left and a label on the right. The layers are labeled 1300 through 1375. The labels on the left are 1305, 1315, 1325, 1335, 1345, 1355, 1365, and 1375. The labels on the right are 1300, 1310, 1320, 1330, 1340, 1350, 1360, and 1370. The layers are stacked vertically, with the top layer labeled 1300 and the bottom layer labeled 1370. The entire stack is enclosed within a larger rounded rectangular frame.
